EIGHT ARE KILLED AND THREE SCORE INJURED IN WRECK

Negro Excursion Train and Freight Collided at Hamlet Yesterday With Fearful Results — Many Seriously Injured—Special Carried Injured to Charlotte.

Special to Telegram.

Charlotte, July 27.—Eight are dead and three score or more are wounded, some seriously so as a result of the head-on collision between a colored excursion train, running from Durham to Charlotte, and a freight train on the Seaboard Air Line railway at Hamlet this morning. The injured were brought here on a special train as quickly as possible.

The coaches were telescoped and many of the injured were buried beneath the debris. Hundreds quickly gathered at the scene and assisted in the work of rescuing the injured.

Hamlet, N. C., July 27.—With a roaring crash and amid the screams of the injured and dying, an excursion train from Durham, N. C., running as second No. 35, bound for Charlotte, crashed headon into No. 17, a freight train in the yards at this place, this morning at 10:40 o'clock instantly killing five people and wounding somewhere between 50 and 75. Many of the injured, it is thought, will die.

The fireman of the freight train had his legs cut off, and there are many here who are seriously injured.

A special train has been arranged and even now is on the way to Charlotte with the wounded. Every doctor in this section of the country is in Hamlet and working to allay the suffering of the injured, while the railroad is doing everything possible to give the injured immediate relief.

The special was composed of 11 cars and was a negro excursion. When the trains hit the cars telescoped and the dead and more seriously injured had to be taken out of the debris.

There has been no cause given out by the railroad people as to who is to blame for the wreck and there will not be for some time as they are exerting all efforts to get the injured to the hospitals and clearing away the wreck.

The engineers of the two trains were named Taylor and Koontz. Neither of them were seriously injured, and got off with only a few bruises and scratches.

As soon as the news got out that there was a wreck in the yards there was an immediate rush for the scene. The railroad people had thrown lines around the wreck, however, and only the doctors and workers were allowed in the yards. One man counted 46 injured people around the wreck as they were brought, or crawled from the ruins.

The scene was awful and the moans and shrieks of the injured added to the terrible scene. As rapidly as possible the injured were brought out and placed in comfortable positions and the more seriously injured ones attended to first. Then the dead were identified by sorrowing friends who were more fortunate and who escaped with minor injuries.

MONEY TRUST TO BE PROBED BY CONGRESS

Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 27.—The money trust of Wall Street is to be probed by Congress to determine whether banking combinations, which had power to control deposits and credit and bring on depressions and panics, have been formed, according to charges made by Representative Linburg before the committee on rules today. The committee at its next meeting will report a resolution directing an exhaustive investigation. No decision as to whether the investigation shall be by the monetary of House commission on banking and currency has been reached. Representative Meeks, of Massachusetts, appeared before the committee today regarding the Linburg resolution. While he did not oppose the investigation and rather favored it, he scoffed at the idea that there was a money trust.

CABLEGRAMS SEAL LIPS OF BOUTELLE

Will Not Make Statement Regarding the Election of Senator Lorimer.

Special to Telegram.

Berne, Switzerland, July 27.—The lips of United States Minister Boutelle, of Illinois, have been sealed by a cablegram from Washington and the minister refuses to say whether he wrote the note as alleged by Edward Hines in the Lorimer investigation but hides behind ambiguous statements which he said he gave the Associated Press last Tuesday and to which he has since made the addtion—"until I have read the evidence it would be improper for me to comment on the testimony, the witnesses or any feature of the case—that's positively all I will have to say," he stated.

While not admitting direct that he had received instructions of secrecy the minister let it become known, although he refused to be quoted, that he had received cablegrams concerning the matter.

Starling Will Be Carried to Georgia.

Starling, the latter will be carried back to Quitman, Ga., to answer the charge of obtaining by forgeries $2,300. The effort was to prove that the young man was insane and that forgeries were a phase of his mania. Dr. J. B. Rogers, of Raleigh, was a witness and testified that he attempted forgeries here during his five years' residence in Raleigh. Dr. Rogers expressed the opinion that Starling is insane.

Veterans In Reminiscent Mood at the Bull Run Battlefield Fifty Years After the Encounter.

Here is a group of Confederate veterans discussing and exchanging reminiscences of the battle of Bull Run on the very field where the contest was waged. A portion of the former battlefield is now a cornfield, as will be noted by the picture. The veteran at the left is seen pointing out a spot where some particular incident occurred half a century ago and which was just then recalled to his mind. The picture was taken on the occasion of the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the battle of Bull Run, which was fought on July 21, 1861.

MURDER

Of Mrs. Beattie Foretold in Dream of Negro Woman Four Weeks Ago.

Special to Telegram.

Richmond, July 27.—A horrible dream in which Maizi Green, the old negro mammy who nursed Mrs. Henry Clay Beattie through her illness at time of birth of her child, saw her mistress murdered today became a part of the material with which the prosecution hopes to convict Henry Clay Beattie of the crime. The woman's testimony has given the authorities a cycological feature which they consider of much value.

She relates that at midnight four weeks before the tragedy as she was sleeping in the same room with Mrs. Beattie and the baby she had a fearful dream and shrieked aloud. "Miss Louisa I saw a man creep into the room, pass around my couch and point a gun at your face. The man put the gun to your face and pulled the trigger. Just as the gun exploded it tore into your face and you were killed," she explained to Mrs. Beattie. The nurse and Mrs. Beattie sat up for some time discussing the dream. Next day the negro woman related the dream to others and on Tuesday night, July 18, it was made a reality, when Mrs. Beattie was shot to death while riding in aa automobile with her hubsand.

Greater secrecy than ever was thrown about their work today by the detectives on the case. It was desired to keep the defense in ignorance of evidence, they said.

Henry Clay Beattie is beginning to break down today. For the first time he shows irritation at his surroundings and at the batch of post cards and letters which since his arrest have come to him daily. He has abandoned the care-free demeanor and considers seriously each hint of new developments in the case. Prison officials predicted that the young man's fall would be sudden and complete.

R. E. Owen, father of the slain woman, declined to talk about the crime, saying he and the elder Beattie were close friends and have been drawn more closely together by their bereavement. County officials and city detectives are still working at odds with little harmony in their efforts. The gun is still in the possession of Officer Jarrell, of Chesterfield county, while the broken piece of stock is in the hands of city detectives. Jarrell stated today that if necessary he would obtain court order to compel the detectives to relinquish the broken stock.

WALL

Street Broker Murdered in Room—Had Struggle With Murderer.

Special to Telegram.

New York, July 27.—Murdered apparently by a burglar, William Henry Jackson, a Wall Street broker, aged 70, was found dead on his bed-room floor at Hotel Iroquois. His body was covered with bruises and there was a deep wound over the right eye, finger marks on throat ad arms. Clothes were stuffed in his mouth as a gag.

A portion of a bottle of chloroform was found in the room and the supposition is that the murderer attempted to administer the drug to him as Jackson slept, and upon his awakening a fight ensued, resulting in the brutal murder. The pockets of the dead man's clothes were carefully examined and turned out. Other articles in the room were not touched. The murderers were apparently frightened away before they had time to complete their explorations. Unless the parties were not ordinary theives it is thought that they were desperate men who wanted some particular paper or article. District Attorney Whitman had the suite of rooms adjacent to that occupied by the victim of the brutal murder.

No Solution of Crime.

New York, July 27.—Deputy Commissioner of Police Daugherty late tonight frankly stated that he had no solution of the crime. He said it was a murder of the most unusual character; that he was confident that the murderer was either an expert hotel crook, a desperate criminal or that he went to Mr. Jackson's room with the idea of killing the man. He said that in his opinion Mr. Jackson showed a fight as soon as he discovered the intruder and was killed in the struggle [redacted] Had robbery been the only motive, Daugherty thinks he would have examined the trunks or the bureau, neither of which had been disturbed. He said that he didn't put much stock in the theory that the murderer was seeking District Attorney Whitman and that he mistook his room and got into that of the aged broker.

PINCHOT

Said Taft's Defense of Controller Bay Matter Doesn't Strike the Root.

Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 27.—In reference to the President's message on the Controller Bay situation, received by the Senate this afternoon, former Chief Forester Gifford Pinchot issued a statement in which he declared that "the President's defense of his course in the Controller Bay affairs shows how hard it is to make a good excuse for a bad mistake. He leaves the root of the matter wholly untouched in his message to the Senate in which he denies there could be any monopolization of the water front of Controller Bay, Alaska.

"In spite of all explanations, "said Mr. Pinchot, "the fact remains that Mr. Taft, in opening the lands around Controller Bay without notice to the public, has given the interests behind Ryan an opportunity to acquire the key to the channel of Controller Bay before the public knew what was going on.

"The President denies that in granting Ryan's request for the opening of Controller Bay by the executive order of October 28, there was any element of secrecy. But Mr. Taft does not mention that on the day he signed the order Ryan's surveying party was ready in Alaska, and that by Nov. 1, four days after the order was made, and before the government officials in Alaska had been notified they had begun a survey of the Ryan claims on Controller Bay.

"The omission of the customary thirty days notice to the public that the land would be open for entry gave Ryan what he wanted. It cut off all chance for any competitor to locate on the terminal lands until after Ryan had made his selection. If the order had been wholly secret the effect could not have been different."

President Taft today received a long cablegram from C. P. Taft in which denial is made that he is in any way interested in Alaskan affairs. Mr. Taft denied also that he ever received the famous Dick to Dick letter. Mr. Taft has been motoring through England and his attention had not been called to this matter until few days ago. Immediately he wrote a cablegram informing the President that he was in no way connected with the Guggenheims in the Controller Bay scandal.

ARMOUR SAYS HE HAS NO INFORMATION

Denies Statement Of Editor Keeley That He Knew Of Lorimer "Jackpot."

Special to Telegram.

Chicago, July 27.—J. Ogden Armour took occasion today to deny that he knew anything about the election of Senator Lorimer or the "jack pot" bribery in the Illinois legislature. Mr. Armour replied to the statement of James Keeley, general manager and editor of the Chicago Tribune, that perhaps Mr. Armour, Arthur J. Peeker, Edward Morris, Alferd Furrin, Lewis, Swift and John A. Spoor might be able to give some information regarding the $100,000 Lorimer bribery fund, by stating the first time he ever suspected that he was supposed to know something of the Springfield bribery was when he saw his name mentioned in the newspapers. "I know nothing about the alleged 'jack pot' exceept what I have read from time to time in the papers,", said Mr. Armour.

RUMOR OF CHANGE OF S. A. L. MAIN LINE REVIVED

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, July 27.—The people of Raleigh are loth to believe persistent reports reviving the old rumors about the construction of a short cut by the Seaboard Air Line from Henderson via Durham to Moncure or Bonsal that would cut Raleigh out of the main line travel of that road north and south. The Chamber of Commerce and the merchant's association are looking into the matter and have as yet gotten no authoritative confirmation of the latest rumor to this effect. It is not believed that any such plan is on foot. There has been some talk of providing such a line for the through freight traffic.

SENATE PASSES SUBSTITUTE WOOL REVISION BILL

Measure Offered By Senator LaFollette Adopted By Vote Of 48 to 32—Goes to Conference—Democrats and Insurgents Voted For Measure.

Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 27.—By a vote of 48 to 32 the Senate this afternoon passed a wool revision bill, a compromise between the LaFollette substitute and the original House bill, offered by Republican Insurgent LaFollette. The wool revision bill passed by the Senate will now go to conference, the differences between the House bill and the substitute passed by the Senate to be decided upon by representatives of the two branches of Congress.

The passage of the compromise by the Senate has practically assured the sending of a wool revision bill to the President for his signature or veto. The bill was passed by the Senate through the union of the Democratic and Insurgent Republican forces. Thirteen Republicans and thirty-five Democrats voted aye. All of the 32 opposing votes were cast by Republicans, among them being Senators Dixon and Borah.

At the conclusion of the vote the Senate proceeded with the consideration of the farmers free list bill, which was made the unfinished business. It will be taken up again tomorrow.

SAND CLAY VERSUS MACADAM ROADS.

The original improved highways in Guilford county were macadam roads. Recently the county has been constructing some sand or sand-clay roads. The Telegram does not know definitely that the county has any standard sand-clay roads, but several miles of road have been graded and treated to a coating similar, at least, to the standard sand-clay covering. These roads are beautiful, smooth highways and it is a pleasure to travel over them. Other counties of the State are adopting the sand-clay construction in the improvement of their highways. The finest specimen of sand-clay construction the editor of The Telegram has ever seen is the road between Louisburg and Franklinton in Franklin county. There are fine sand-clay roads in other counties and this material is growing in favor with road improvement advocates and road builders. As far as the pleasures of travel are concerned and for general utility the sand-clay road serves every purpose of the macadam road. In fact it is a better road in some respects, being less wearing on stock and vehicles, perhaps, than macadam. A road of this type will not wear as long as a macadam road, but repairs will cost less; and the first cost is far less than the cost of a standard macadam highway.

Among those in this State who have been favorably impressed with the sand-clay road we find the editor of the Asheville Citizen. The Citizen believes that the macadam road is passing and that sand-clay will prove an acceptable and satisfactory substitute. Here is the line of argument used by the Citizen in favor of sand-clay roads:

"The Citizen having several times advocated the construction of sand-clay roads in this section, would call particular attention to the statement of Mr. George Stephenson, of the Kanuga club, wherein he cites the wearing superiority and economy of the sand-clay road. In building his excellent automobile road from Hendersonville to the Kanuga club, Mr. Stephenson secured the views of expert engineers and the wisdom of his final resolution to take the sand-clay is today borne out. 'Macadam,' said Mr. Stephenson to the writer, 'is not only a waste of money in the original investment, but it costs far more in upkeep than a asand-clay road. This is true in every section, and particularly in Western North Carolina where there is the finest gravel for sand-clay construction to be found anywhere. A ten thousand dollar investment in sand-clay means just four times the length of road that you can get in macadam.'

"There is ample food for reflection here on the part of our county authorities. Experiments made in this county with sand-clay more than bear out the claims of its friends. Four times cheaper than macadam; twice, if not three times as durable, one really wonders that it should be necessary for newspapers to preach about the advantages of sand-clay. The average price per mile of macadam is $3,400, though in some sections it runs above $4,000 per mile. Sand-clay of the finest variety such as we have in this section can be put down for $800 to $900 per mile! Is it not worth consideration? Can the counties of North Carolina afford to longer use the expensive and quickly wearing macadam while the superiority of the sand-clay road is clearly demonstrated? The sand-clay road to which we referred at the beginning of this article has been down nearly three years, and to the personal knowledge of the writer it is now in splendid condition. Indeed, it seems to improve as time goes on. Many of us in this section can instantly call to mind macadam roads which have been down only three or four years and they are now in a deplorable condition. Why then stick to macadam?"

Good morning! Where is Castro?

The Commission has not yet been recalled in Wilmington.

The last Diaz interview is past due. Nothing from the old man for a week.

There will be some near hair pulling in the Senate when the effort is made to pull the wool bill to pieces.

The water supply is giving Charlotte more trouble than ever resulted from the near beer supply.

Philadelphia Record writes at length on "Why Wickersham is in Congress." Seems to be for the purpose of making trouble for the administration.

"Root for something" is the advice of the Wilmington Star. Try rooting for the Greensboro baseball team. That is something worth rooting for.

An exchange refers to the "isolation" of Senator Heyburn in the Senate. What about the isolation of Senators Simmons, Bailey and Clarke?

While Congress is investigating why not investigate the ownership of those newspapers William J. Bryan spoke of a few weeks ago?

The weather for the past few days has been so autumn like that people are beginning to ask if it is the forerunner of an early fall for Summer.

The Observer says that the population of Charlotte "hardly exceeds forty thousand." The modest and retiring disposition of the Observer shines from this statement in unsurpassed splendor.

The Mexican insurrectos have not been pacified. The only safe plan for pacifying a Mexican insurrecto is to shoot him full of holes.

Spartanburg Herald takes note of the fact that every Piedmont town in the Carolinas has a little slogan all its own. How is Going, Growing, Greater Greensboro?

Dr. Wiley will not be dismissed. He will continue to prod the fakers and cheats who fleece the people, and his past record is a guarantee that the work will be well done.

The newspapers down there chronicle the fact that Charlotte is on the brink of a water famine—standing on the rim of an empty reservoir, as it were—but the people of that city continue to thrive and do business. Perhaps they drink buttermilk.

It is said there are 250 automobiles in Charlotte. Who knows the number of automobiles in Greensboro? This city will push any other place in the State close for first place in the number of honk machines.

The Greensboro Commission may not make a record for cutting the city's expenses but it is going to make a record for doing things. If the same amount of money is expended and the city gets much more for it than was secured under the old systsem, it is not likely that anybody will kick.

The alleged "progressive" Republicans of the Senate who voted against the Reciprocity Bill will have the opportunity to vote for the Wool Bill and the Farmers' Free List Bill. Senators Simmons, Bailey and Clarke are in the same class. The country is waiting to see what they are going to do about it.

The Wadesboro Ansonian thins that if everybody who loves Ex-Governor Aycock votes for him he will be the successor of Senator Simmons. Mr. Aycock is probably the most popular man in the State, but a great many people are not going to be influenced in their voting by personal preference of this kind. This fact may count against the Ex-Governor in the balloting.

WHAT NORTH CAROLINA EDITORS ARE SAYING.

L. J. Shuler, a farmer living west of town, who has kept a record for the last ten years of the amount of wheat threshed within a radius of a mile from his home, says that the present crop is the largest by 1,000 bushels that has ever been harvested for that period. This increase does not mean that there was an increase in acreage, but that the farmers are learning to grow more wheat to the acre.—Thomasville Times.

With that railroad from Greensboro and good roads all over this county it will hardly have an equal in this State, for the Lord has done much for this section.—Roxboro Courier.

When Underwood Was Tested.

"Alabama," says the Richmond Times-Dispatch, "will cast its 22 votes in the next Democratic convention for Oscar W. Underwood for President," which programme The Times-Dispatch commends in language extolling Mr. Underwood to the vaulted skies.

Everybody praises Underwood. What is the secret of his popularity and influence? That we shall not discuss, but the test of his character was when he stood by his tariff reform principles at a time that pressure was exerted by the immense influences of the steel, iron and coal interests of the Birmingham district to mack him swerve from them. He did not compromise, he stood firm and his people saw and knew the manliness and dependableness of him and supported him.

Had Oscar W. Underwood allowed his Democracy to be corrupted because some of his constituents were tainted with Protection sentiment he would be rated in Congress today as a politician of the second or third class and not as a statesman of the first class.—Columbia State.

How the Dispensaries Are Secured by Counties.

Those counties asking for a dispensary proceed in the following manner: The physicians of the county endorse the plan for carrying on the work for a period of from four to six weeks as do also the county board of health and the county board of education. These indorsements are then presented to the county commissioners with a request that they appropriate such part of $50 a week as may be found necessary to defray the expense of advertising the work, paying for the medicines and paying the traveling expenses of the laboratory man, provision for which can be secured in no other way. The work is accomplishing results highly satisfactory to the county commissioners. Senator J. A. Brown, who was influential in having the hospital located in Columbus county, writes as follows:

"I sincerely hope you can arrange within the next few months to locate at this point again for a much longer period. By this time the beneficial results will be known to our people and I believe a second trip will result in a complete eradication of hookworm disease in this territory."

She Scored.

The clock on the mantelpiece had already struck one. At least, it would have done so had the clocks been invented then. Still the noble knight lingered, thinking of something to say, although the baron's daughter was obviously half asleep.

"I'm afraid," he ventured at last, "that I am like an augur."

"And why, sir knight?" she asked, talking in her sleep.

"Because I bore you," he exclaimed, in triumph. The shock roused her.

"Nay, then," she retorted, "but you remind me of an ancient flint lock gun."

"Aha, fair lady," he queried, scenting a compliment, "in what manner?"

"It takes you so long to go off," she murmured, as she settled down for another nap.

At 1:15 A. M. the portcullis fell with a clang, the cat was put out for the night, the drawbridge raised and all slept.

Fish Fry at Deep River Mills.

Tuesday T. E. Marshall and S. G. Newlin, of the Deep River Mills were hosts to part of the stockholders and officers and a party of their friends at a delightful fish fry.

About noon the floodgates of Naomi pond were raised and J. L. Lassiter, O. C. Redding, T. C. Lamb and M. M. Routh went in with seines, bringing out fish enough to feed twice as many people.

Those who came down from Greensboro in automobiles were as follows:

R. G. Vaughn and son, R. G., Jr., T. A. Hunter and wife and daughter, Miss Marion, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Watins and son, Allen, Dr. and Mrs. Turner and daughter, Miss Mary, Mr. Willis Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Leak, all of whom are residents of Greensboro.

The people generally took advantage of the draining of the pond and went in with seines. Between 800 and 1,000 pounds were taken from the river, fish from one-half pound to fifteen. The river banks were almost lined with people watching the work going on. The crowd was estimated at 400.—Randleman News.

"Do you consider Wobbleton's humor original, Binks?" asked Dudleigh. "Sure it is," said Binks. "Absolutely. I don't believe there is any humor in existence that antedates Wobbleton's jokes."—Judge.

PROGRESS OF WORK ON Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

Some of the Details of Construction—Building Nears Completion—Attracts Interest of Thousands in City—Prospects for Flourishing Organization are Bright.

The several score of laborers engaged in the work of putting the finishing touches upon the plastering on the walls of the Y. M. C. A. building are now giving their attention to the work in the two lobbies for men and boys in the intermediate classes. This is being finely finished off with a handsome moulding that runs throughout the walls of the reading, game, and lobby rooms, all of which are adjoining. The apartment for boys, however, is entirely separate from that of the men, as it has been found that the plan of certain classes in certain rooms produces better results, where the smaller boys are admitted to the association as will be the case here. The boy member have the entrance on the south from Sycamore street and are never allowed in the other lobby. The main entrance for senior members and the general public is on Greene street, and from their lobby they have access to shower baths, locker rooms, and toilets.

Secretary Martin will have two private offices immediately in front of the main entrance. A winding stairway, well-lighted from a huge skylight on the roof, adds to the attractiveness of the main lobby. Behind this are two private offices for the physical director, who has not yet been chosen, as the directors are on the lookout for the best man obtainable for the position. He will direct the exercises of the gymnastic and swimming classes. His duties give him complete control of the gymnasium and swimming pool, and the doors to the steps leading to these rooms from the boys' lobby are always locked except, of course, during their period for class work. The gymnasium, a finely proportioned and adapted room for the purpose, in dimension, 25x 40 feet by two stories in height, is the only other room on the first floor. Three floors are to be laid, the lower composed of heavy timbers, then lighter boards with water-proof paper sandwiched between. These floors were completed yesterday and work will today be started upon the last layer, which will be thin and smooth strips over a thick felt lining, placed for the purpose of deadening the sounds made by the aspiring gymnasts. This will be a thoroughly up-to-date and well-equipped "gym" when its superior apparatus is installed. A small room opens in to this which is to be equipped for the game of "hand ball" and for storage purposes for the apparatus when it becomes necessary to clear the floor. A hall way extends from the lobbies to the rear of the building where it meets a servants' stair that runs from the basement to the third floor. A small door opens from the outside to this stair for the handling of trunks or other articles without necessitating passage through the main building.

The second floor, with the exception of the running track and spectators' gallery surrounding the gymnasium, is given over to dormitory and four class rooms for the younger boys. The dormitories are all cozy rooms, each with a large window, heated by steam radiators, and with shower baths, and toilets conveniently situated for their use.

Dormitories, baths and toilets are the only rooms on the third floor. The total of 31 rooms for young men lodgers is reached, all of them completed in the Old English finish. Over the gymnasium will be a spacious roof garden which will be a favorite retreat in the cool of the summer evenings.

In the basement are marble baths, toilets, and locker rooms divided in three sections for the seniors, business men, and boys respectively. Baths are also provided for the benefit of the public and a manual training room for the boys is also stationed in the basement. But here the greatest attraction is the handsome swimming pool, which will be completed with tile floors in the entire room. It is ten feet deep in the lower end and four feet in the upper end, 48 feet long, and 16 feet in width. The massive brass ladders from the pool add to its beauty. As features of entertainment for the bathers a spring board will be placed, a trapeze suspended over the water, and a "shoot-the-chute" will also be constructed. The bowling alley has not yet been started but will soon be begun and finished with the building.

There is absolutely no danger of fire from the boiler room where all the heat will be generated. Walls 22 inches thick surround it on all sides and an explosion only can allow a possible conflagration to spread beyond the confines of the one room.

The rubbish collected during the construction of the building has been partially cleared away and within a week the premises will be thoroughly cleaned. An excavation of about 18 inches of earth will put the lawn on almost the same level as the street. A clear space 75 feet in width and extending over the length of the lot to the north of the building will be cleared of all dirt from the basement and two double tennis courts and a small lawn will be made.

The plans for the membership of the association have not yet been completed. The committee on the study of the membership policy met last night at 8 o'clock in the office of C. A. Hines. The board of directors will also hold a meeting on Friday night at the same hour in the directors' room of the Commercial Bank. Other announcements as to the plans and prospects for the now thriving Y. M. C. A. will be given at that time.

American Titles.

William Jennings Bryan once joked about the American fondness for titles.

"You all know of the colonel," he said, "who got his title by inheritance, having married Colonel Brown's widow? But I once met a general who got his title neither by inheritance nor by service, nor by anything you could mention.

"'General,' I said to him, 'how do you come by this title of yours, anyway?'

"'Why, sir,' said he, 'I passed my youth in the flour trade, and for 27 years was a general miller.'

"I know another titled man—Judge Green.

"'Are you, sir,' I once asked him, 'A United States judge or a circuit court judge?'

"'I ain't neither,' he replied. 'I'm a judge of hoss racin'?"

Mr. Morgan at Home.

J. M. Morgan, who was hurt by an excursion train at Greensboro about six weeks ago, having one of his feet painfully crushed, returned home a few days ago. He has been in a Greensboro hospital since the accident. The excursion was going to Danville, Va., and Mr. Morgan was on his way to Greensboro. The train did not stop at the station when he jumped off, a foot being caught under a car wheel, as he did so. Mr. Morgan is an employe of the Kesler cotton mill but will not go to work for some time yet.—Salisbury Post.

GOING TO ALASKA.

Secretary Fisher Will Observe for Himself the Situation.

Washington, July 27.—The Secretary of the Interior will leave Chicago August 2 on the first lap of his trip to Alaska, where he goes to gain first-hand knowledge of the situation there, and particularly in respect to the use of Controller Bay as a harbor for the outlet for coal from the Behring River fields.

At the present Secretary Fisher is busy at his office here getting affairs in such shape that they may be left in charge of his subordinates. He will leave Washington Saturday, and will spend several days with his family in Chicago.

On his way to the coast he proposes to stop at a number of land offices, irrigation projects and Indian reservations to take note of the day the different agencies of the Interior Department carry out their lines of effort. After these visits Mr. Fisher believes he will be able to reach Seattole, Wash., in time to embark on the steamer which leaves that port for Alaska August 15.

Escaped With His Life.

"Twenty-one years ago I faced an awful death," writes H. B. Martin, Port Harrelson, S. C. "Doctors said I had consumption and the dreadful cough I had looked like it, sure enough. I tried everything I could hear of, for my cough, and was under the treatment of the best doctor in Georgetown, S. C., for a year, but could get no relief. A friend advised me to try Dr. King's New Discovery. I did so, and was completely cured. I feel that I owe my life to this great throat and lung cure." Its positively guaranteed for coughs, colds, and all bronchial affections. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free at Fariss Klutz Drug Co.

Honest Medicines Versus Fakes.

President Taft's recent message suggesting an amendment to the Pure Food and Drugs law in its relation to Prepared Medicines, does not refer to such standard medicines as Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and Foley's Kidney Pills, both of which are true medicines carefully compounded of ingredients whose medicinal qualities are recognized by the medical profession itself as the best known remedial agents for the diseases they are intended to counteract. For over three decades Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has been a standard remedy for coughs, colds and affections of the throat, chest and lungs for children and for grown persons, and it retains today its pre-eminence above all other preparations of its kind. Foley Kidney Pills are equally effective and meritorious. Howard Gardner.

But grand protection is afforded by Electric Bitters, which destroy and expel these deadly disease germs from the system. That's why chills, fever and ague, all malarial and many blood diseases yield promptly to this wonderful blood purifier. Try them, and enjoy the glorious health and new strength they'll give you. SCIENCE PREVENTS BALDNESS.

The Fatal Germ and Its Remedy Newton Facts of Science.

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair is not dead at the roots need be bald if he will use Newbro's Herpicide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herpicide destroys the germ that cuts the hair off at the root; and cleans the scalp of dandruff and leaves it in a perfectly healthy condition. Mr. Mannett, in the Maryland Block, Butte, Mont., was entirely bald. In less than a month Herpicide had removed the enemies of hair growth, and nature did its work by covering his head with thick hair an inch long, and in six weeks he had a normal suit of hair. DISPENSARIES FOR HOOKWORM DISEASE BECOMING POPULAR

Raleigh, July 27.—The remarkable success of the dispensaries established this month in the counties of Sampson, Columbus, Robeson and Halifax for the free examination and treatment of hookworm disease has surprised even the most ardent advocates of the dispensary method for carrying on hookworm campaigns. The four District Directors of the campaign treated twelve hundred and eighty-five cases last week and the prospects are that the number will be two thousand by this week. At the dispensary in Columbus county 412 people were treated for hookworm disease in one day.

Those counties having the dispensaries are so highly pleased that they are already asking that the dispensaries remain in the counties for a longer period than was at first agreed to. Several counties adjoining those in which dispensaries are located have already offered the financial aid which is necessary to make possible the dispensary work.

DR. WILEY DECLINES TO BE THE GOAT

His Enemies Fail to Get Doctor's Scalp--Momentous Events About to Transpire in Congress —General Goethals Plans Big Lawns in Panama.

By RALPH WHITESIDE.
Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 27.—Whatever failings Dr. Harvey W. Wiley may have, willingness to be the goat is not one of them.

The men who have been out for the scalp of the accomplished defender of the purity of the nation's food supply have discovered that he is baldheaded and has no scalp that can be taken.

In fact if they are able to save their own top-knots they may consider themselves fortunate.

The man on the street, and he is the man who runs this country of ours after all is said and done, does not know whether benzoate of soda is poison or not, in fact he does not know what benzoate of soda is, that is comparatively few of him knows. But he had rather take Dr. Wiley's word for it, than that of a man who finds a profit in using it in his business.

The idea is abroad through the land that Wiley is an honest public official standing up for the rights of the people without fear or favor, and that the men who are after him are men upon whose corns he has stepped in the performance of his duty.

When the public gets such an idea in its head it's a good thing to let it have its way. With the situation as it is Dr. Wiley would be a more formidable enemy out of office than in it.

Next week will be a momentous period in Congress. The various important measures passed by the House will be voted on by the Senate and it will be decided whether or not the tariff revision shall be "put up to Taft" at once or not.

The best impression is that some at least of the tariff measures will get through the Senate and go to the President. While this is probable, it is by no means certain. The situation is peculiar. No tariff measure can pass the Senate without an alliance between the Democrats and the Insurgent Republicans. If this was all there is little doubt that such an alliance could be effected but the House introduces a factor of uncertainty. Will it accept amendments to its tariff bills necessary to gain the support of the Republican Insurgent Senators.

Leader Underwood and other dominant influences in the House are silent on the subject. They assume an attitude of "wait and see."

In any event Congress will be the "cynosure of all eyes" next week.

Made desperate by the constant erosion and falling of earth from the slopes of Culebra Cut into the Panama canal bed, Colonel Goethals has determined to try a new and yet ancient expedient. He will turn the yellow slope into beautifully terraced lawn, in the hope that the closely woven grass roots will hold the surface and prevent anything but big slides.

Colonel Goethals has called up the Agricultural Department in Washington for assistance and several thousand pounds of grass seed and a lawn expert have been hurried to the rescue.

H. Pittier, an expert Botanist from the Smithsonian Institute, will have charge of the planting, and will direct his efforts toward the quick growing of a lawn.

Many of the lawn experts of the Agricultural Department are dubious as to the outcome. They agree that if Mr. Pittier succeeds in growing a good holding lawn from seed on the steep slopes of the Culebra Cut, he will have accomplished a great feat. To sod the enormous area of the two slopes is an impossibility, however.

Colonel Goethals and the canal officials have come to the conclusion that the constant erosion caused by the tropical rains is even worse than the big slides. The slides bring the earth down in one spot, and it can be removed in comparatively quick time. The earth that comes down through erosion extends the full length of the cut, and it grows in quantity rapidly day by day.

If reports emanating from reliable sources are to be believed, John Hayes, of marathon fame, has been offered a lucrative position. One of the big Italian clubs desires his services as coach to prepare their teams for next years' Olympic games.

The American marathon runner has been in Italy for some months. He likes the place so well that he doesn't mind sticking it out for another year or so, according to some of his own statements inclosed in letters to friends in this city.

The Italians are after the big honors in the Stockholm meet, and will give almost anything to have a capable trainer or coach put them in winning condition. They like Johnny Hayes.

Hayes has picked up a lot of weight since he's been taking it easy on the other side. He declares he was never in better condition. He has won a couple of twenty-mile races, but he didn't show his best form, as his opponents didn't give him any kind of a fight.

Edward Kearns, who only a few years back was the Republican Senator from Utah, looked in the other day upon his old friends who remain, and uttered no regrets that he is no longer in the senatorial procession. Rather the expressions of Kearns indicated that he was very well content with what is coming to him in the development of his State, and he is much more eager to talk of new railroads, sheep, ranches, and gold mines and the making of fortunes than about the pending political propositions of his region.

"There is a rather impatient waiting upon Congress and its action on reciprocity and tariff, especially the tariff," said Senator Kearns, "and our banks are blessed with plenty of money, which will remain in the vaults until the suspense about Washington is ended. There is much more talk and anxiety about Schedule K and other possible legislation than about the election of delegates to either national convention next year.

"The Republicans have no thought but the renomination of President Taft. The Democrats, especially those in business, and who yearn for a conservative man, seem more inclined to Gov. Harmon of Ohio, at this time, but there is no definite organization in favor of any Democratic candidate."

Each day sees a careful pushing ahead of Speaker Champ Clark's presidential boom, and the latest is the jubilant announcement of the United Irish Societies in Chicago that the Hon. Champ will be the chief orator and guest of honor at the annual picnic August 15. The Chicago sons of Erin are happy over securing the Speaker, but hardly realize how happy the Clark acceptance for the date mentioned has made the weary statesman in Washington. It indicates that Congress will be adjourned by that time, and that the Speaker has firm faith in the Penrose prediction of adjournment by the first week of next month.

The Speaker's acceptance of the invitation will give joy to other members who have hitherto been unable to make appointments for pleasure or business, and several delayed trips to Europe will begin a few days after the special reciprocity session is ended.

Senator Percy, of Mississippi, who came to the Senate for the unexpired term of Senator McLaurin, is now enjoying an actual campaign for a full term, and is making a tour of the State in the usual way so popular in the South, where speeches are even demanded. Senator Percy has gone into the campaign with much vigor and considerable confidence.

MORE ABOUT TROUBLE IN NEGRO K. OF P. GRAND LODGE

Durham, July 27.—After working nearly all night, during which time the colored grand lodge Knights of Pythias took up the misappropriation of their funds, the lodge yesterday morning elected Dr. J. W. Jones, of Winston-Salem, grand chancellor and Dr. G. W. Adams, of Durham, grand master of the exchequer.

The investigation began Tuesday afternoon when Insurance Commissioner James Young reported a shortage of $4,000 in the surplus of $12,000. Further investigation tended to show that of that $12,000 only $2,000 could be touched. There is no certainty that what has been found is as it has been found, but the grand lodge seems to discover that Grand Chancellor Fitts mis-handled $8,000 and Grand Master of the Exchequer Ed Miller $2,000.

It is explained that as a lawyer, Grand Chancellor Fitts loaned money and that perhaps $4,000 of this can be collected from notes., The secrecy of the executive sessions makes a perfectly straight story simply out of the question. Before 3 o'clock yesterday morning it was known that there had been trouble in the lodge. Some members dropped the proceedings on the streets and it was known that somebody had lost his job.

Attorney Fitts had been re-elected. He was the most popular man in the lodge and nobody could have beaten him. Until Mr. Young dropped the hint there was no thought of trouble in the order. Mr. Young had given the word that if the grand lodge expected to retain its insurance standing, it would have to apply the pruning knife. It did so, Fitts resigning immediately upon the reception of the suggestion of irregularities.

Grand Chancellor Fitts is under bond of $2,000 and Miller under one of $5,000. There is not likely to be any actual loss of money and the charge against the grand lodge officers is one that has not yet been termed embezzlement. The members seem to think that there will be some prestige lost the order as an insurance body, though no actual loss of moneys.

Now comes another side which contends that this is just a fight made on the present officers by another faction, fraternal politics, the most unbrotherly and dirty of all kinds. They contend that though Mr. Young sent such a letter out, there has been no action upon it and that the affairs are not nearly so much tagled as "the other faction" thinks. It is known, too, that the grand lodge officers are here now and are still working upon the books.

The auditing committee of the grand lodge has recently gone over the books and reported no irregularities. Such is the tangle or the misunderstanding in the lodge that nobody appears to be able to give any certain account of conditions. Many members of the lodge asked that nothing be said about it until they found out the trouble though all admitted that Mr. Young had already pointed out a portion of the bad management.

It is quite possible that a thorough investigation may clear up something, but for the present there appears to be no risk to run in saying that the lodge doesn't find things in proper shape and that the grand officers have not used the moneys as they are constitutionally required to do. This comes from as truthful a man as there is in the order and from one who thinks the conditions have been overdrawn.

The officers now elected are Dr. J. W. Jones, grand chancellor; F. C. Hester, of Bellhaven, vice chancellor; Dr. J. A. Bonner, grand prelate; Rev. Dr. G. W. Adams, grand master of the exchequer; W. B. Windsor, grand keeper of records and seals; Dr. D. W. Chestnut, of Wilmington, grand medical register. The grand lodge meets next year in Raleigh.

LIONESS FOR ROOSEVELT.

Cage, With Snarling Animal, Is Taken Back to Coney Island.

New York, July 27.—An ingenious press agent is suspected of responsibility for the delivery of a full-grown lioness today at Theodore Roosevelt's editorial office. The cage was addressed to Colonel Roosevelt, but before he had a chance to see its contents the police took charge of the snarling animal, and held it until the owner called. After some difficulty the owner obtained permission to take the lioness back to Coney Island.

NEGRO WOMAN SUCCUMBS TO GUN SHOT WOUNDS

Nannie Mines, the negress who was fearfully wounded last Tuesday night when she was shot by another negro, Sol Pritchard, died last night shortly before ten o'clock. She never regained consciousness from the effects of the terrible wound, which was located on the temple and carried away a large part of the woman's head and brains with the discharge of the gun. Nothing has been learned of the whereabouts of the murderer, but it is expected that the renewed vigilance occasioned by the death of the woman will soon effect the capture of that worst of criminals—he who ruthlessly takes human life.

City Commissioners Inspect Danville Water Works Plant

The City Board of Commissioners spent yesterday in Danville inspecting the waterworks plant at that place, especially some new style pumps being used there. The city is preparing to put in steam pumps at the city station and this style were recommended. While in the city the officials talked with the management of the waterworks system regarding the meter system, this having recently been installed in the Virginia city. The commissioners returned last night and expressed themselves as highly pleased with the manner in which the Danville plant is being conducted. They will decide in a few days as to whether they will install the same kind of pumps in use in Danville.

SOUTHERN POWER COMPANY'S WIRES REACH DURHAM

Durham, July 27.—The wires of the Southern Power Company were strung into the sub-station at Durham Wednesday afternoon, and in a very short time the tumbling waters of the Catawba river, more than 150 miles away, will be turning the wheels of the manufacturing industries of the city.

The sub-station, a fire-proof, brick structure about 50 by 75 feet in size, has now been practically completed. It is situated on the land of the Duke Land and Improvement Company, near the Pearl cotton mill.

The work of placing the transformers and other instruments necessary for putting the current in condition for use in turning the motors that will be installed in the manufacturing establishments will be begun at an early date.

The current is transmitted over the main lines of the company at an immensely high voltage in order to counteract as much as possible the resistance that the long lines of wire offer to the passage of the current. The high voltage must be transformed in to a lower voltage before it can go into the motors, and this is the principal purpose of the sub-station. The main line will lead into the sub-station and branch lines will carry the current to the cotton mills and other manufacturing enterprises that have already contracted for the power. The placing of the machinery in the station takes only a short time and before many more weeks the current will be turned onto the line.

The transmission line to Durham extends from the Catawba river, a number of miles below Charlotte, to Durham, by way of Salisbury, Lexington and Greensboro. It is the longest distance that power has ever been transmitted anywhere in the world. That it can be transmitted thus far and compete with coal generated power shows that it is only a question of time until the coal carrying railroads of the Piedmont section will have some strenuous competition.

The Lawn Party at the Moravian Church this evening will afford a pleasant occasion for all who attend.

Benefit for McIver Fund.

The benefit lawn fete given at Mr. G. E. Miller's home last evening, for the McIver Loan Fund, by the local State Normal Alumnae Association, was a decided success.

The young ladies enjoyed a liberal patronage, and the entertainment combined quite a number of beautiful and pleasing features. Perhaps the most attractive of these was the pretty Maypole dance, presented by twenty-two dainty little misses, all in fluffy white, with gay ribbons and sashes; this was in charge of Misses Claude Poindexter and Maude Miller.

Then, the Gypsy camp was a favorite resort, bright with richly-colored hangings, and here Misses Robbie Mickle and Sadie Martin forecasted future events in true Gypsy fashion.

The candy booth was also an attractive spot, this being in charge of Miss Grace Whaling.

Throughout the evening very pleasing music was rendered by the Winston Cornet Band, to whom the Association owes a debt of gratitude, since they would accept no remuneration.

The patrons were gracefully served by a dozen young ladies dressed as Normal marshals, in the white and gold college colors. They looked very fetching in their witching little yellow tissue caps.—Winston Sentinel.

Miss Stewart Entertains.

At her home on Summit avenue last evening between the hours of 8:30 and 12 o'clock Miss Norma Stewart delightfully entertained a large number of young people complimentary to her attractive guest, Miss Juanita Alphonzo, of Nutley, N. J. In spite of threatening clouds and at times driving rain, the members of Greensboro's younger society congregated in number for the informal but brilliant reception and enjoyed the most delightful evening that has been spent by them for many a day.

At their arrival the guests were warmly welcomed by the hostess and guest of honor, and in a short time, gathered about on the wide veranda and in the parlors of the home the young people were soon seated and rapidly creating that best of good things—companionship by the aid of a lively game of "progressive conversation." The time passed quickly and delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. Punch in its abundance and excellence was always convenient. Delightful mints, and rich pineapple sherbet with nabiscos were partaken of with relish by the visitors. All too soon the near approach of midnight hour called the guests, reluctant, from the event that was pronounced most pleasing by every one present.

MANY FARMERS ATTEND INSTITUTE AT M'LEANSVILLE

The first of the series of Farmers' Institutes for Guilford County was held at McLeansville yesterday, there being a large and enthusiastic attendance of the farmers of the eastern section of the county. There were also a number of women present to attend the Women's Institute held in connection with the institute for men.

The sessions began at 10 o'clock and continued throughout the day, a recess being taken for dinner, which was served on the grounds. A number of instructive talks were made by representatives of the State Department of Agriculture regarding the different phases of farming, also on the selection of seed. Special emphasis was laid on the thorough preparation of the soil before planting.

The ladies conducting the woman's department also made talks on home economics and they were heard with interest. Prizes were offered for the best loaf of bread baked on the farm and several competed for the honors, the bread being on exhibition. Other samples served at dinner made all feel that the ladies of the eastern section of the county were well up on the art of cooking.

Today a similar institute will be held at the Battle Ground for the benefit of the farmers living in that section of the county. Tomorrow an institute will be held at Pleasant Garden.

VALUE OF HEALTH AND MARINE HOSPITAL SERVICE

Has Prevented Serious Cholera Epidemic in This Country Since Established—Some History of Cholera Plagues in This Country.

By VICTOR ELLIOTT.
Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 27.—Since the Government established the Health and Marine Hospital Service, there has not been a serious epidemic of cholera in the United States. Prior to that time numerous outbreaks of the plague scourged the land, claiming thousands of victims, and causing much distress and suffering to the people.,The necessity for dealing with the plague was brought to the attention of Congress, and appropriations were made to treat the disease and prevent, if possible, its appearance in the United States.

The efforts of the Public Health and Hospital service have met with great success. Generally the plague is brought into this country from immigrants from Latin Europe. Sometimes its appearance is noted on the Pacific coast, where it is brought from travellers and natives of the Orient.

Most Americans forget that there have been fearful epidemics of cholera in this country, when the dead and dying lay unburied in the streets and when pestilence overwhelmed the land such as it did in Europe in the Middle Ages.

The first great epidemic of cholera in the United States occurred in 1832. It reached New York June 27, and lasted two months. In that time thirty-four hundred deaths resulted. Other large cities in the East, South and Middle West suffered proportionately. It lasted in some cities, as Cincinnati, until the end of the summer of 1833. In St. Louis, New Orleans, and other Southern cities the mortality was twice that of New York.

According to Surgeon General Wyman, of the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service, who has a great deal of experience in treating all kinds of epidemics, the second and greatest cholera epidemic began in 1848. In New Orleans the population was decimated. In New York during the week ending July 21, 1849, more than seven hundred persons died. A historian of that time, said Dr. Wyman, wrote that 10 per cent of the entire population of the United States perished.

"So strong was the instinct of self preservation," Dr. Wyman said, "according to the history of the times that in many cases when one member of the family developed the first symptoms of the malady the rest of the family rushed from the house, leaving the victim to die alone.

"The custom of shaking hands was abolished for fear of contagion. Nobody went out of doors except upon the most necessary errands. Old acquaintances recognized each other only by a curt nod. Many persons walked in the middle of the street to avoid the breath of pedestrians, and maneuvered to pass to windward of all they encountered.

"Believeing that the smoke of gunpowder was a preventive, they burned at intervals in the houses. Tobacco smoke many believed in. Even women and children were seen with cigars and pipes in their mouths. Others carried tarred rope in their hands and in every pocket, and hung camphor bags about their necks. Many chewed garlic and carried sponges saturated with vinegar dangling from their buttons, and inhaled the odor from smelling bottles.

"Funerals were given up altogether, and the most prominent citizens were unceremoniously placed in the death carts and laid away in the cemeteries, which looked like plowed fields.

"Russia," continued the cholera and epidemic expert, "is one of the countries which suffers most from the scourge. During the long terrible winter of northern Russia all the rivers are covered over with ice, which begins to melt in May. The cholera sets in at the same time, usually the very day the people begin to drink water from the rivers. When the rivers begin to melt, the priest is notified, and almost all the inhabitants of the town or village will flock togteher around the church to form a procession to the river.

"A silver bowl is filled with the water, which is specially blessed. As soon as this ancient ceremony is over, nearly all the people wade in the river, praying and chanting. The ice cold water is filled by almost the whole population of the town or village through which it flows.

"All conditions of humanity go into the water for absolution from disease, the beggar beside the richly clad, they drink of the water which contains death for them. Thousands will then fill bottles with the water and take it to their homes, drinking a drop every morning, and evening after prayers, ever after it becomes stagnant. The result is an immediate outbreak of cholera, the victims growing in numbers until the end of the summer.

"The worst cases develop in the sacred city of Mecca, in Arabia, Mohammed's birthplace. Two million Mohammedans visit Mecca every year in August, the hottest part of the year. Here is the greatest congress of disease germs in the world. Should these pilgrimages be discontinued it would save millions of lives. The pilgrims gather there from Russia, India, Southern Russia, European Turkey, flock to this center, crowd together under the worst possible conditions, bathe together in the holy wells, roll over one another in holy frenzy, convey the cholera germs to one another, and then return to disseminate the disease in their respective countries.

"In the United States in latter years the disease has been kept in check by extraordinary watchfulness on the part of officers of this service at the various ports of the country. Diplomatic and consular officers are instructed to immediately report outbreaks of cholera to the State Department. Long in advance of the arrival of any ocean bound vessel from affected districts, United States officers are prepared to quarantine the suspects upon arrival.,In this way the spread of cholera and other infectious diseases can be kept within control."

Dr. Wyman is of the opinion that no serious outbreak of cholera, such as happened in 1848 or 1832 will ever occur in this country again. He believes that the Public Health and Marine Hospital service will always be able to prevent a spread of cholera.

FINAL SOLUTION UNCERTAIN.

But Balfour and Lansdowne Will Remain as Unionist Leaders.

London, July 27.—The final solution of the political crisis is uncertain, but it may safely be assumed now that Balfour and Lansdowne will remain as leaders of the Unionist party.

Mr. Balfour, at one of the most serious crisis in his career , has again proved himself to be an astute leader. No sooner was his letter affirming his intention to stand or fall by Lord Lansdowne published than the incipient mutiny collapsed. Organizers of the Halsbury banquet tumbled over each other to repudiate any disloyalty to Mr. Balfour. A list of more than 230 peers published tonight, who by letter declare themselves to be supporters of Lord Lansdowne's policy and ready to allow the Parliament bill to pass under protest.

The dinner referred to was given in honor of the Earl of Halsbury, at which several hundred Unionist peers, Unionist members of the House of Commons and party workers attended. The exact number of peers adhering to the Earl of Halsbury is not known, but it is believed it will not exceed 130.

Great enthusiasm was displayed at the Halsbury banquet tonight, but all the speakers emphasized the view that they could exercise individual judgment without necessarily causing a breach in the party or implying disloyalty to the leaders.

NEW ORLEANS PROTESTS.

Fights Against Reduction of Force and Equipment of Navy Yaard.

Washington, July 27.—Protests from commercial bodies of New Orleans against the reduction of the force and equipment of the navy yard there were received by Acting Secretary of the Navy Winthrop today. The communications expressed the belief that the decrease of the importance or the abandonment of the New Orleans naval station would expose the city to a disastrous attack in time of war. Mr. Winthrop has replied thato a navy yard has no fortifications, and cannot be regarded as a means of defense. On the other hand, he added, it was actually an invitation to attack, as it is an axiom with naval commanders to attempt to destroy the navy yards of an enemy in order to cut off his base of supplies and repairs.

Money may not bring happiness to a man, but it gives him the equipment to go exploring for it.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE AT ELON COLLEGE GREAT SUCCESS

Elon College, July 27.—The second session of the Western Alamance and Eastern Guilford Farmers' Institute was held here on Wednesday, and was largely attended. Mr. J. S. Jeffreys, A. & M. College, delivered two addresses, one on the killing, dressing and marketing of poultry to the women exclusively, and the other on poultry raising on the farm, with special reference to their feeding, to a joint session of both men and women. Prof. C. L. Newman, of the same institution delivered two addresses to the men exclusively. The first was on soil improvement, and the second was on rotation of crops. Mr. T. Frank Parker, of the State Department of Agriculture, delivered a most excellent address on commercial fertilizers and home mixing, which appealed very much to the farmers and is subject to comment even yet. Miss Katherine Parker addressed the Woman's Institute twice. She spoke on health hints and home bread making. Mrs. Sue V. Hollowell addressed the Women's Institute from the theme, "The Care of the Infant" and then before a joint session told the men some straight things in regard to opportunities for women of the farm, their wives and daughters were entitled to have and must have if farm life is to be made what it should be. Mrs. Hollowell was largely applauded by the men, who had listened to the catigation of themselves. Her address made a decided hit.

The many friends of Prof. N. F. Brannock, of the chair of Physics and Chemistry here, will be glad to know that he is now on the road to permaent recovery, from a serious trouble which required a double operation to which he has been subjected at the St. Leo's Hospital in Greensboro. His life was despaired of at first, but his physicians assure us now that he is out of danger —in fact he is able at this time to write with his own hand.

Former President Dr. E. L. Moffitt, is a pleasant visitor on the Hill, and is making arrangements to hove his furniture to Asheboro, which is to be the seat of his labors and the place of his home from this on. President Moffitt assumes control of the Asheboro Wheelbarrow and Manufacturing Co., the position in which he has had large experience and reaped a large and deserving success in former years.

ANOTHER BODY RECOVERED.

Almost Entire Skeleton Taken From Berth Deck on the Maine.

Havana, July 27.—A skeleton, almost entire, but presenting slight hope of identification, was discovered on the berth deck on the starboard side of the Maine today. These are the first bones found below the main deck, which has been now entirely explored. It is believed that the skeleton is that of a warrant officer, whose quarters were in that section of the ship.

This makes the total number of remains so far recovered approximately fourteen, leaving sixty bodies unrecovered. Practically all hope has been abandoned of the recovery of other remains forward of the central superstructure, as all that section has been destroyed.

HEAVY FINE IS IMPOSED ON DRUNKS

Three inebriates, all young white men, were haled into Municipal court yesterday morning to answer for the weakness whose constant indulgence is fast sapping their manhood. Joe Holt, for the second time within a weeok, and Lester Wood were proven to be on just a splendid spree and each was fined $10 and the costs in the cases against them. Both went to jail in default of the payment of their fines, but Holt was later paid out by his mother. Wood will probably have a rest in the calaboose until friends come to his assistance with the money to pay his way to freedom.

M. M. Mays was convicted on the heavier charge of drunk and disorderly. He was fined $15 and the costs. Judge Eure acted in accordance with his promise of last week when the court docket was formed entirely of cases against seven drunks that he would raise the license fee for drunkenness. The fines imposed yesterday were the highest yet given for the offense.

Judgment was rendered in the case against Mabel Gibson, a negress, for keeping a bawdy house. The case was tried on Wednesday and judgment continued. The defendant was pronounced guilty and sentenced to serve a term of four months in the county workhouse.

Lonnie Foster, colored, was proven guilty of driving an ice wagon over the hose laid in the street when the firemen were fighting the blaze on Davie street Tusday, and he was taxed with the costs in the case.

PATRIOTS HAD BATTING RALLY IN NINTH AND WON

Good Work of Morrisey Prevented Spartans From Scoring After First—Oppotune Hitting Cause of Victory.

Spartanburg, S. C., July 27.—The locals had the game won in the first inning but persistent hitting of Patriots got Smith up in the air in the last and Greensboro took the game, 3 to 2. Morrisey pitched a good game and the visitors got men on first in every inning. An error, followed by four singles with one out gave the visitors their two runs in the ninth. The team work was good and the crowd was feeling good. This was "Boosters' Day" for the locals and extra admission was charged for the benefit of the locals.

Score by innings:	R.	H.	E.
Greensboro 000 000 012	3	12	1
Spartanburg 200 000 000	2	9	1

Batteries: Morrisey and Stuart; Smith and Westlake. Umpire, Obrien.

SWINDELL CAME BACK AND FANNED FOURTEEN HORNETS

Winston-Salem, July 27.—Swindell equalled his season's record of strike-outs this afternoon—14—and the Twins won easily from Charlotte 3 to 1. Sheesley was also in good form, striking out six and allowing seven hits. The hits of the Twins came at times when they counted.

The visitors began the scoring in the first frame on two errors and a passed ball. The Twins scored twice in the same frame on two singles, a sacrifice and a double. In the fourth Dailey hit one over the center field fence for the other run of the Twins. Agnew put up one of the finest exhibitions at second that has been seen here this season. Clancy's work at short for the Twins featured. Garman made a brilliant one—a catch of a line drive.

Score by innings:	R.	H.	E.
Charlotte 100 000 000	1	5	1
Winston-Salem .. 200 100 00x	3	7	3

Batteries: Sheesley and Malcomson; Swindell and Dailey.

STOUCH'S BUNCH TOOK FIRST GAME FROM ANDERSON

Anderson, S. C., July 27.—Bussey and Kull were well matched in today's game each yielding nine hits, fanning four and walking one, but the opportune hitting of the Spinners with the poor fielding of locals took the game 6 to 3. This is the third straight game for the Greenville team since Manager Stouch has taken charge of the team, they have won three, lost three and tied one under Stouch. The team has more life and the attendance has increased as the games are more interesting.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Greenville 000 200 202	6	9	1
Anderson 100 000 101	3	9	4

Batteries—Bussey and Kite; Kull and Brannon. Umpire, Nugent.

Triturated Baseball.

Charlotte Chronicle.

Didn't get a thing out of the series but a good drubbing.

Winston better have Greenville's salary limit investigated.

Bet those fans are getting sore over in the Twin City.

Say, if the Patriots win the pennant, who gets the alleged Winston bonus?

Clancy has lost his cunning. Umpire-baiting must have played out.

Well, the appendage wiggled the canine at Greenville this week.

Just look at the margin between first and second places.

When the Twins get to winning again Coffin will probably get back on the job.

Can't truthfully say that we are tickled to death with the results at Greensboro this week.

If somebody will take that horseshoe away from the Patriots when the Hornets visit Greensboro, they might get a game once in a while.

We're getting real sorry for Winston. Seems like they are on the toboggan for fair, and just when we all thought they had cut loose on the last lap to win the pennant regardless.

DIAMOND DUST

Where They Play Today.

Greensboro at Spartanburg.

Charlotte at Winston.

Greenville at Anderson.

"Won in the ninth."

Swindell also "came back."

The Hornets have struck the toboggan.

Eighth is one of our most lucky innings.

If Greensboro goes to the eighth without scoring, they are sure then to start something.

Tommy Stouch seems to be delivering the goods since he resumed management of the Greenville bunch.

We had hoped that Sheesley would win his game. Both Charlotte and Greensboro needed it.

Laval has learned that with the Patriots the game is not over "until the last man is out in the ninth."

Winston got the game from Charlotte, but with those five errors it appears that the contest should have resulted the other way.

Coffin will do some tall crowing for the next day or two, but he and the others realize that the time is near at hand when he must crow from second station of the roost.

Will of the Late Daniel P. Foust Was Probated

The will of the late Daniel P. Foust was probated in the office of J. W. Forbis, clerk of Superior court, yesterday morning and before night had been duly recorded. The executors, W. T. Whitsett and D. P. Clapp, who qualified, stated that the estate was worth about $75,000.

The main portion of the estate is left to Mrs. C. T. Foust, widow of the deceased. To the Springwood Presbyterian church is left $3,000 to be used in putting cement walks in the graveyard and a stone fence around the same. The sum of $300 annually from the rental of Greensboro property is to be applied towards the pastor's salary and the remainder of the rental from said property is to go to the Orange Presbytery to be used in supporting weak churches. A farm of 198 acres is to be rented and the rental is to go to Orange Presbytery to be used in Home Mission work. A portion of the real estate is left to laborers, on condition that they remain with Mrs. Foust as long as she lives. Other property is left to brothers and a sister.
